PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CENTER COURSE LIST

NAME	FREQUENCY	SUMMARY
Civilian Leadership Course	Biannually	Five-day course provides a learning environment similar to the enlisted Airmen attending Airmen Leadership School (ALS). It provides civilians (GS-09-GS-13 and/or WG/NAF equivalents) essential tools for supervising/working with military personnel. Intended to enhance skills relating to the military supervision.
Winning With People	Monthly	Twenty-Five People Principles that anyone can learn. Some people are born with great relationship skills, but others have to work at it. Open to all personnel.
Challenges Leaders Face	Monthly	Refine your leadership skills. Challenges every leader faces: tension, frustration, multi-hat, ego, fulfillment, vision and influence. Open to all personnel.
360 Degree Leader	Monthly	Connects the understanding of the vision from the top to the bottom of the organization. By aligning themselves with the vision, leaders anywhere in the organization can add value, improve the bottom line, and feel more fulfilled. And when satisfaction is high, so is success. Open to all personnel.
Stress Management	Quarterly	This course teaches positive and easy-to-learn coping strategies to help you manage stress. Open to all personnel.
Retraining 101	Quarterly	This program is to balance the enlisted career force across all Air Force Specialty Codes (AFSCs) and ensure sustainability of career fields. Available to all Enlisted Airmen.
First Term Officers Course (FTOC)	Quarterly	Three-day seminar to prepare new Officers (CGOs) to tackle their job duties within the organization. Develop job skills and understand the structure and role of the enlisted and civilian workforce and their place and expectations within that group dynamic.
Junior Enlisted Professional Enhancement Seminar (JEPES)	Quarterly	Two-day seminar designed to provide Airmen (A1Cs) a professional development opportunity. The course focuses on a variety of topics such as the Enlisted Force Structure, Career Progression, Standards and Discipline, Airman Comprehensive Assessments, Enlisted Performance Reports, Bullet Writing and Ethics.

Note 1: We polled Airmen across the Installation and based on their demands/interests that's how we shaped our curriculum.

Note 2: Our ultimate goal is to help Airmen find their path, both personally and professionally; we are available to provide road show/in-house style support.
